

Sensory Friendly Solutions

Diagnoses, disorders, disabilities that make you more likely to have sensory sensitivity.

- Alzheimer's Disease (AD)
- Anxiety
- Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD)
- Attention Deficit Hyperactive Disorder (ADHD)
- Autism, Asperger's, Autism Spectrum Disorder, High functioning autism, Autistic person.
- Concussion
- Post-concussion Syndrome (PCS)
- Dementia
- Echolalia
- Epilepsy
- Fibromyalgia
- Hearing loss, hard of hearing
- Highly sensitive person (HSP)
- Intellectual disability (ID)
- Learning disability (LD)
- Lewy-Body Dementia
- Low vision, vision loss
- Meniere's disease
- Mental disorders, mental illness
- Myalgic encephalomyelitis/ chronic fatigue syndrome (ME/CFS)
- Non-verbal learning disability (NVLD)
- Post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD)
- Sensory processing disorder (SPD)
- Sensory integration disorder (SID)
- Synesthesia
- Tourette's syndrome
- Trauma, early childhood trauma
- Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI)
- Mild Traumatic Brain Injury (mTBI)
- Vestibular disorder

Furthermore, most of these disabilities, disorders, or differences are long-term and chronic.